Aviaid Introduces G-Line Dry Sumps

With more and more performance enthusiasts opting to pull G's with serious corner carving and participating in "track attack" events, noted lubrication systems manufacturer Aviaid has introduced its G-Line™ series of budget dry sump kits.

Designed for popular Muscle Car and Sport Compact applications, kits are available for small block and LS series Chevy engines, small block and modular Ford plus Chrysler "LA" engines on the domestic side. Aviaid also manufactures over 40 different mounts (including "universal" designs) that allow installing a dry sump (or external wet sump) pump on most any engine.

The G-Line kits include a custom dry sump oil pan, 3-stage dry sump pump, mounting brackets, pump drive and belt, dry sump tank and bracket, a remote filter mount, filter adapter and filter.

Aviaid has been a leader in lubrication technology since 1961, and a pioneer in automotive dry sump systems. From the LeMans winning Ford GT-40s to current GT-III champions, Aviaid oil systems are the choice of leading competitors. Visit www.Aviaid.com or call 818-998-8991 for personalized tech assistance.
